Cleanliness Drive Report-2022

With reference to the circular(NSS/2022-23/84) dated 30/07/2022 NSS unit of MGM college of CS & IT Nanded organized Cleanliness Drive on 13 August 2022 for B.Sc.(CS),BCA, B.Sc.(BT),B.Sc.(BI),M.Sc.(SE),M.Sc.(BT),M.Sc.(BI) under Swachh Bharat Swasth Bharat Abhiyaan Programme. The main purpose of this programme was to create awareness among the students regarding Cleanliness and its benefits.

Under this programme, all the students of had to participate. Even all teaching and non-teaching staff were the essential part of this drive. As a part of this Cleanliness Drive, we had to clean the whole college. The sweepers of the college had to be the observers.

Our Principal started the programme by cleaning the corners of the play ground. Then the staff and students followed suit. Some of us picked brooms and started our job. Some of the students did the dusting of the rooms.

And others went to the play ground and started picking wrappers lying scattered there. After collecting them they threw them in to the dustbins. After doing this job for two to three hours, there we gave refreshment to all in the form of bananas and tea.

Thereafter our Principal Dr.Kotgire S.L.delivered the speech telling us the importance of sanitation. He also honored the sweepers of the college for their noble job. In the end we all took oath of keeping our home, locality and city clean. It was a unique experience for all of us. We were curious to be the part of this great drive that could have transformed the face of our country for ever.

Nirmalya Sankalan Campaign Report 2022

On September 09, 2022, the day of Anant Charthurdashi, or Ganpati Visarian. At Nagina Ghat on the Godavari River's bank, the NSS unit of MGM College of CS & IT, Nanded, organized a Nirmalya Sankalan campaign.

The campaign started at 10:00 a.m. with the collection of Ganesh idols for Nirmalya Sankalan. Volunteers from the NSS also spread awareness of the campaign and discouraged people from disposing of the idols in lakes and rivers.

This campaign's primary goal is to raise public awareness of the need to prevent water pollution and maintain the cleanliness of natural water resources. On the river's ghats, NWCMC stored Nirmalya Sankalan pots for collection. Nirmalya is gathered by our NSS volunteer from the Ganesh idol and placed in the pots that NWCMC has set up.

At first, PHP was gathered to be an truncation for "Individual Domestic Page", but it presently stands for the recursive initialism "PHP: Hypertext Preprocessor". Lerdorf started PHP improvement in 1993 by composing a few Common Portal Interface (CGI) programs in C, which he utilized to keep up in his individual homepage. Afterward on, He amplified them to work with web shapes and to communicate with databases. This execution of PHP was "Individual Domestic Page/Forms Mediator" or PHP/FI. Today, PHP is the world's most well known server-side programming dialect for building web applications. Over the a long time, it has gone through progressive corrections and versions. PHP Versions PHP was created by Rasmus Lerdorf in 1994 as a basic set of CGI doubles composed in C. He called this suite of scripts "Individual Domestic Page Devices". It can be respected as PHP form 1.0. In April 1996, Rasmus presented PHP/FI. Included built-in bolster for DBM, mSQL, and Postgres95 databases, treats, user-defined work bolster. In the late 1990s, Microsoft started creating a overseen code runtime and programming dialect (C#) which it charged together as portion of the ".NET stage", with the center runtime and computer program libraries comprising the .NET Framework. At the heart of the .NET Stage is the .NET System, a high-productivity, Multilanguage advancement and execution environment for building and running Web administrations with critical highlights such as cross-language legacy and debugging.[5] Soon after the declaration of the C# dialect at the Proficient Engineers Conference in 2000 and sneak peaks of its computer program got to be accessible, Microsoft started a standardization exertion through ECMA for what it named the Common Dialect Framework. The company proceeded advancement and back of its claim usage as restrictive, closed source computer program in the meantime. On November 12, 2014, Microsoft presented .NET Core—an open-source, cross-platform [6] successor [7] to .NET Framework—and discharged source code for the .NET Center CoreCLR execution, source for the "whole [...] library stack" for .NET Core,[8] and reported the selection of a customary ("bazaar"-like) open-source advancement show beneath the stewardship of the .NET Establishment. Miguel de Icaza portrays .NET Center as a "updated form of .NET that is based on the disentangled form of the lesson libraries",[9] and Microsoft's Immo Landwerth clarified that .NET Center would be "the establishment of all future .NET stages". At the time of the declaration, the beginning discharge of the .NET Center extend had been seeded with a subset of the libraries' source code and coincided with the relicensing of Microsoft's existing .NET reference source absent from the limitations of the Ms-RSL. Landwerth recognized the drawbacks of the once chosen shared permit, clarifying that it made codename Rotor "a non-starter" as a community-developed open source venture since it did not meet the criteria of an Open Source Activity (OSI) endorsed license [10][11][12]. .NET Center 1.0 was discharged on June 27, 2016, [13] along with Microsoft Visual Studio 2015 Overhaul 3, which empowers .NET Center development.[14].NET Center 1.0.4 and .NET Center 1.1 were discharged along with .NET Center Instruments 1.0 and Visual Studio 2017 on Walk 7, 2017.[15]

It has revolutionized the way businesses operate and consumers shop by eliminating geographical barriers and enabling transactions to occur anytime and anywhere with just an internet connection. E-commerce encompasses various models, including business-to-consumer (B2C), business-to-business (B2B), consumer-to-consumer (C2C), and more recently, consumer-to-business (C2B) and business-to-government (B2G) transactions.

At its core, e-commerce involves several key components that facilitate online transactions.
